

x737 Copyright Issues

Before you start using any of the x737 aircraft make sure that you have taken notice of the copyright situation. We provide all liveries, aircraft, plugins and manuals for free, but the copyright belongs to the authors, Benedikt Stratmann and Pierre Stone, EADT. You may download all the resources from our website and use or modify them for your own fun, but redistribution of any part of the downloads, modified or not, is prohibited without permission of the authors. All resources are granted as they are, no warranty that they serve a certain purpose except fun. We have assembled all our products carefully and with the best knowledge possible, however you are using them on your own risk. And again: Everything is free, but not free of right. Thank you for respecting copyright laws, thank you for using the x737 aircraft.

How to install the x737 aircraft:

1. Download as many liveries as you want from the x737 page

http://www.stratmann-web.net/xplane/v8_aircraft.html

and place them inside any folder in the Aircraft directory in your X-Plane folder.

2. Download the x737 plugin for your platform from the x737 plugin page

<http://www.stratmann-web.net/xplane/Plugin.html>

and install both the plugin (.xpl) and the folder 'x737textures' in the 'Resources/plugins/' folder in your X-Plane folder.

3. Download the manual and flight planning software from the x737 manual page

<http://www.stratmann-web.net/xlane/Manual.html>

and put them where you want.

Here are the most important weblinks for x737 pilots:

Get all liveries, the latest plugin, manual and planning sheets from the x737 website:

<http://x-plane.benedikt-stratmann.de>

Our team site, giving you access to more projects:

<http://www.eadt.eu>

Report x737 bugs to

<http://bugreports.benedikt-stratmann.de>

Get GoodWay add-ons like the GoodWay flight planner and XPCoPilot from the GoodWay team site:

<http://www.xpgoodway.com>

The big meeting point for the X-Plane community is of course

<http://www.x-plane.org>

Enjoy!